

<http://www.internationalegg.com/php/news.php?iMonth=6&iYear=2003>

The International Egg Commission

June 2003 Newsletter

...Scientific principles being ignored

Burdensome national standards and technical regulations imposed by the European Union and other US trading partners create trade barriers that often ignore scientific principles, according to a report published by the National Foreign Trade Council (NFTC). The report, "Looking Behind the Curtain: The Growth of Trade Barriers That Ignore Sound Science," named poultry, beef, food ingredients, vitamins and foods derived from biotechnology among the affected products subjected to trade barriers.